The Man

An action packed biography with a message for all men.

The Man

An action packed biography with a message for all men.

Z. Lambdor

Schrijver: Z. Lambdor & [redacted]
Coverontwerp: f D Multimedia Developer
ISBN: 9789403697253
© Z. Lambdor

The story of THE MAN
An action packed biography with a message for all men.

My name is Zusje Lambdor. This is not my story. This is a story regarding a very special individual I had the chance to meet.
A unique and fascinating story that could inspire and give guidance to the ones in need.
An individual who deserves to have his story told.

I' m here to tell you the story of The Man.
After reading his biography you will know what kind of a man he is. His thoughts, how he moves, what drives him and what he believes in. How he operates, what makes him so special and how and why he got the name;
The Man.

He was not a self proclaimed visionary that wanted to have his story out there. These are gathered and verified experiences and testimonials from several eyewitnesses.

People who think that his story is worth sharing with the rest of the world. A story worth telling, with a message for future generation of men.

Words of guidance to all men who needs guidance in these dark days and ages.

Contents

According to the Chinese the mythology	08
Toro Mondinga	10
The resolution	13
Third eye	16
Stepping up the game	18
Beware of what you wish for	20
Man power intimidation	21
Play stupid games win stupid prizes	23
Number 1	25
THE MAN	27
Leave or not to leave	29
Dead or alive	31
Goodbye	33
A new life path	36
Female nature	38
Unfavourable	41
Nostradamus must listen	44
A Miracle	48
Mad younger and beautiful	50
Forever Best friends	52

Action packed year 53
The millennium girl 55
Watch out for Candyman 57
The year of despair 61

Blasts from the past 67
Pretentious 72
The perfect couple 75
Too masculine 78

Alpha widows 81
The End 83
Aftermath 90
The Matrix 91

The Message 92

According to the Chinese zodiac mythology:

It was toward the end of the year in the mid 70's when he saw the light of the world for the first time.
A Dragon (according to Chinese zodiac astronomy) boy was born.
His parents were in an established marriage with 2 children. As the boy of the family, his parents were happy to have accomplished the goal knowing that the family legacy would be carried on. This boy was named B-Romeo (B-R).

Little did they know that that name would turn into a fairytale movies iconic figure.
He grew up living with his 2 sisters and their parents on a beautiful Island in the Caribbean.
He was this beautiful kid with long hair and a mesmerizing smile.
His father was an engineered businessman in car mechanics.
His mother worked at a school. She learned to work in her early years to support her mother and other siblings. After all, she was the eldest kid. And since the passing away of her father, someone needed to fill in that gap.
He was the kid where people couldn't take their eyes off. Whenever they went somewhere, people were mesmerized about his looks, especially his eyes and teeth.
He looked like a girl and his teeth were whiter and brighter than white. The whitest ever seen.
He had an aunt that always teased him about his white teeth. Sadly enough this aunty passed away in 2022. Even in her last moments was she "bullying" him with his white teeth.
According to his mother he wasn't a cry-baby, he wasn't a baby that needed lots of attention. He wasn't a kid that craved to be around others. He was a kid who was happy minding his own business. He was happy with some tools and toys and could interact with those for hours. Tearing things apart and putting them back together.

He had a strong interest in technique, painting and drawing. He was very good in making detailed paintings with depth and effects. He painted on everything. From books, ceilings, walls to even cars. He loved drawing people's faces. When he saw someone, he would try and make a profile sketch of them.

Toro Mondinga;

Things got a weird turn after the passing of (their fathers mother) his grandma. He became wild. They describe it as like the soul of grandma descended into him. He went from a peaceful kid to a fierce raging bull. That was when they started calling him; Toro Mondinga (Raging Bull). After that day, more and more noticeable things started to happen.
He started bullying people, young and old, man or woman. No one was safe. It didn't matter to him. What else stood out was his ability to withstand pain and traumatic events.
At 4 years old he (almost) drowned at the beach but recuperated very quick after that. A while after that while eating chicken soup, he chocked on a chicken bone. He turned purple because of asphyxiation and fell on the ground. Miraculously he coughed it up and recuperated like nothing happened.
At the age of 5 he was playing outside with some friends. They were filling glass bottles with soil and ants to see how the ants were digging their ways underground.
He was walking while holding a bottle in both hands, they were walking trough the construction site of their secondary house. The foundation for the house was being build so there were bricks everywhere and diggings al over the place. It was not easy to walk over. That resulted in a devastating moment.
Suddenly one neighbour started yelling, crying and shaking.
It was the mother of one of the girls he was playing with.
What happened was that while walking, he fell while holding the bottles. One of the bottles broke and sliced into his hand. It sliced the palm of his hand in two, even his ring finger was split in two. His pinky was dabbling aside like a dead piece of meat.
He knocked at the neighbours door with a white shirt that turned red from the blood of his hand. That scared the neighbour that she started crying, yelling and shaking.
He presented at her door asking for help but he wasn't even crying.